From the Headmaster

Today I'm in Washington, DC, with Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Dye, and Lumen Christi High School students for the March for Life. Our high school participates in the march every year. It's an important witness by our students and a good experience for them.

Our boys basketball team played its last game on Tuesday, losing to St. Matthew in the tournament. The team battled back from a deficit and nearly closed the gap – and they never gave up. Thanks to Dave Olecki and Sean Gallagher for coaching the team, and to Adam Smith and Robert Jenkins for helping out. The team played well together and made great progress over the season, and they represented our school well. Congratulations to all on a successful basketball season.

Enrollment for 2018-19

Thanks to the families that have already returned Letters of Intent for the coming school year. If you have any questions or concerns about enrollment, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Snow Days

Last Friday was the first time I ever had to call a snow day, and I had a little trouble with the notification progress. But I think it's cleared up now, so let me clarify where to look for Lumen Christi information on bad weather days.

Delays and cancellations for Lumen Christi will be listed on two TV stations and their web sites:

- WISH-TV (8) and wish-tv.com
- WTHR-TV (13) and wthr.com

These are the same sources listed in our School Handbook. (We will not use WRTV and theindychannel.com.)

Upcoming events

Open House: Our annual Open House is this coming Thursday, Jan. 25, 7:00-8:30 pm. There will be a brief presentation at 7:00, and then visitors will be able to tour the school and meet teachers from 7:15 to 8:30. Please encourage friends to come see Lumen Christi.

Kris Barnes and Nicole Haywood will be cleaning the elementary school tomorrow morning (Saturday, Jan. 20) to prepare for the Open House. Please contact Kris at kbarnes@lumenchristischool.org if you'd like to help.

Geography Bee: The Geography Bee for finalists from grades 4-8, originally scheduled for Jan. 12, will be held on Friday, Jan. 26, at 8:15 am in Priori Hall. Parents are welcome to attend.

Holy Rosary Trivia Night: Holy Rosary parish will hold its annual Trivia Night on Friday, Feb. 2. The proceeds will go toward the reconstruction of the courtyard – which is badly needed – so I'd like to see if we can field a Lumen Christi table. It's also fun. Tickets are $75 each, and we need 10 people to fill a table. Please let me know through the Friday folder or at bcollins@lumenchristischool.org if you're interested.
