

December 8, 2017

From the Headmaster

Over the past several days, three groups of Lumen Christi students have visited St. Paul Hermitage to sing, attend Mass, decorate cookies, or play bingo with the residents. Many students also made cards, ornaments, and nativity scenes as gifts. From all accounts, it seems that the visits were a good experience for both the residents and students.

Thanks to the teachers for preparing for these visits, and to all the parents who helped. I hope our students can visit again before too long.

Advent Angels

All Lumen Christi students are Advent Angels, and by now everyone should know the name of the student or teacher for whom they should be praying during Advent. Please encourage your children to keep up their Advent Angel prayers.

Holy Family Shelter Collection

Donations to our annual collection for Holy Family Shelter are stacking up. If you haven't already done so, please contribute. Suggested donations, by grade level, are:

- Pre-K and Kindergarten: canned food, soups
- 1st/2nd grades: breakfast cereals
- 3rd/4th grades: toilet paper, paper towels
- 5th/6th grades: egg noodles, dry pasta
- 7th/8th grades: OTC medications (such as Advil or Tylenol) for infants, children and adults
- High School: diapers, wipes

Parents Praying the Rosary on Wednesdays

Beginning this past week, and continuing each Wednesday during the school year, Jose Ocampo will lead recitation of the Rosary at 1:45 during Eucharistic Adoration in Holy Rosary Church. We invite parents to come a little early for afternoon pickup on Wednesdays and join in prayer for our students, families, teachers, and school.

St. John's Choir Festival Next Friday

Next Friday, Dec. 15, Lumen Christi will participate in the School Choir Festival of Christmas Carols at 6:00 pm at St. John the Evangelist Church.

Parents of students in grades 2-6, please see the notice in today's Friday folder.

The choir festival is part of St. John's Christkindl Village celebration, and I encourage all Lumen Christi families to come see our choir and enjoy the celebration.

Reminder: Our boys basketball team plays Saturday, Dec. 9, at 3:00 pm at St. Joan of Arc.