From the Headmaster

Thanks to all for the outpouring of support for the Olecki and Roller families and for your continued prayers.

Ash Wednesday is less than two weeks away. Once again this year, we will practice Lenten almsgiving through a food drive for the St. Anthony-Holy Trinity Food Pantry. We will also offer special opportunities for prayer and confession for students and teachers.

I hope that everyone got the news about our two-hour delay on Wednesday. If you still need to sign up for Remind.com texts and/or emails, please let me know. Also remember that WTHR is the only TV station/website where we list weather delays and cancellations for Lumen Christi.

Thanks to Josh Haywood for a great presentation on church architecture to the high school Church History class.

2019 Edie Fitzgerald Legacy Award Winner

It is my honor to announce that the recipient of the Edie Fitzgerald Legacy Award, to be presented at our Annual Dinner on Apr. 26, is Mrs. Kris Barnes. As I explained earlier, this award in honor of our school's founder formalizes a practice we started at the dinner two years ago, to recognize members of the Lumen Christi community for their contributions to our school.

Mrs. Barnes was chosen by a committee representing parents, teachers, and the board, from nominees submitted by members of the Lumen Christi community. I am very happy that Mrs. Barnes is being recognized for her many years of dedication, and her continuing hard work, for our school.

FACTS Deadline March 15

Families who intend to request financial aid for the 2018-19 school year must complete applications through FACTS by Friday, March 15 to ensure consideration. A link to the Lumen Christi FACTS page is near the bottom of our school web site. If you have any questions or problems with FACTS, I'm happy to help. Please note that you do NOT need 2018 tax information to file an application now for the 2019-20 school year.

Families with students who have signed up to sing in the Pueri Cantores Choir Festival on Saturday, Mar. 9, will find a sheet in today's Friday folder with additional information about the event.

I'm looking forward to seeing many of you at the LCCS Family Night on Saturday!
