From the Headmaster

Congratulations and thanks to the cast and crew of the school play, Canterbury Tales – and in particular to Mrs. Lewis for another great production!

Students from our high school and 7th and 8th grades put on a truly entertaining and enjoyable show, demonstrating that Lumen Christi has some very good comic actors. Thanks to all the parents and teachers who helped pull off a very large undertaking for a small school. We can all be proud of what Lumen Christi students accomplished.

Thanks to all the families who contributed throughout Lent to the St. Anthony-Holy Trinity Food Pantry, and to Connie Merkel for informing and encouraging our Lenten almsgiving.

And thanks to the children who collected coins during Lent for the Missionary Childhood Association. If you haven't returned your box yet, please send it in next week so we can send our school contribution to the Archdiocesan Mission Office.

Just a couple of reminders this week:

Prayer and Cookies for Prison Inmates

If you can bake cookies for the Kairos Prison Ministry retreat Apr. 5-8 at the state prison in Plainfield, please bring them to school no later than 9 am Thursday (Apr. 5). If you can pray during the weekend, please sign up on the Prayer Chain in the main office – or just let me know. Thanks for your support.

Annual Dinner Apr. 20

The Annual Dinner is our biggest fundraiser of the year. We'll have another enjoyable evening this year with comedy writer Tom Leopold and a great silent auction. This is a good chance to invite friends to introduce them to Lumen Christi. Tickets are available on lumenchristischool.org.

HAPPY EASTER!
